EXPERIENCE

Complex Commercial Litigation: From pre-suit negotiations to early-stage motion practice, through discovery, summary judgment, final hearings, and appeal, I have litigated matters in state and federal courts, arbitration, and mediation involving claims of trade-secret misappropriation, breach of contract and fiduciary duties, securities and antitrust violations, false advertising, and more. I have drafted substantive and discovery motions, taken and defended depositions, prepared witnesses for deposition and trial testimony, drafted affirmative and responsive discovery, and coordinated internal and external case teams. I quickly learn clients' technologies and business strategies—ranging from unique software platforms, self-driving cars, medical devices and treatments, solar-power solutions, online-advertising tools, cryptocurrencies, and more—to identify risks and develop, communicate, and execute litigation strategies consistent with clients' business interests. I have developed this wide-ranging experience, with a particular emphasis on brief writing, through work with a core common team at three law firms.
